Healthy eating is important for everyone - but having FH means it’s really important to keep our cholesterol levels low. This helps to keep our hearts and bodies healthy as we grow up.

Eating too many foods that contain unhealthy fats can increase the cholesterol in our blood. Some foods have more than others, so it’s best to eat these less often or avoid them altogether!

Vegetable spreads
- Low fat yoghurt
- Chicken, fish, Quorn and tofu
- Oatcakes, bagels & crumpets
- Wholegrain bread
- Nuts, seeds & plain popcorn
- Muesli or porridge
- Semi skimmed (green cap) or skimmed (red cap) milk

Drop it...
- Butter
- Full fat yoghurt
- Sausages, burgers & fatty meats
- Cakes, biscuits & doughnuts
- White bread
- Crisps, sweets & chocolate
- Sugary cereals
- Full cream milk (blue cap)

See if you can find other foods to add to the list...

© HEART UK, 7 North Road, Maidenhead SL6 1PE, Charity Registration No: 1003904. Produced by Simon Williams and Linda Main at HEART UK, with special thanks to Dr. Uma Ramaswami, Lorraine Priestley-Barnham and Fiona Kinnear

www.heartuk.org.uk
making GOOD FOOD choices

FRESH IS BEST and will provide the essential vitamins, minerals and fibre your body needs.

But... FROZEN is just as GOOD

Your mission...
Try eating at least FIVE different types of FRUIT & VEGGIES every day.

DRIED FRUIT, LIKE RAISINS & DATES ARE GREAT TOO
but remember they do have a lot of sugar, so only eat them at mealtimes!

CANNED FRUIT & VEGGIES ARE ALSO HEALTHY (especially if they don’t have any added sugar or salt).

FRUIT JUICE & SMOOTHIES ARE FUN TO DRINK
but they can be high in sugar, so only have a small glass each day.

GOOD is just as...